

Belleek Castle

Individuals predestined to gourmandism are generally of medium height, they have round or square faces and lips, well rounded bright eyes, small foreheads and short noses, full lips and well rounded chins.

The women are buxom, pretty rather than beautiful with a tendency to run fat.

Such is the exterior beneath which to look for the most agreeable company, for these guests who accept everything they are offered, eat slowly and savour each morsel thoughtfully. They are never in a rush to leave the place where they have found true hospitality and they are invited to stay all evening because they know that the games and pass times appropriate to gastronomical gatherings.

Those on the contrary to whom nature has refused an aptitude for the pleasure of taste have long faces, noses and eyes, whatever their height is there is something elongated in their proportions, their hair is dark and flat and they are never plump.

It is they that invented trousers.

The women whom nature has afflicted with the same misfortune are angular in body, are easily bored at the table and only live for cards and scandal.
